

LADIES WATCH BILLIARDS

Slosson and Morningstar Are the Victors of the Day.

LATTER MADE A RUN OF 62

Howison Makes a Poor Showing in the Evening, but Sutton Only Loses by Twenty-five Points.

George Slosson and Ora C. Mornings*ar, the latter being the Indiana billiardist, were the victors yesterday in the billiard tournament for the championship of the world, which is now in progress in the Concert Hall of the Madison Square Garden. Morningstar won his game in the afternoon, beating the Chicago entry, George Sutton, in a game well worth watching, by 25 points. Slosson won in the evening from Leonard Howison, beating the latter almost two to one, Howison's total being 206 to the 400 by Slosson. As all the games in the series the play was at eighteen-inch balk line.

The afternoon game was much the better of the two, although the presence of Slosson on the floor in the evening was of itself sufficient to draw a large gathering of enthusiasts, a notable feature being the increased attendance of ladies in the reserved seat section. The greater number watched the game to the end, and when clever masses or well-judged shots around the table were made, the fair spectators showed that they understood a neat play fully as well as their experienced escorts.

Morningstar won his game in 42 innings, giving one of the nicest exhibitions of billiards that he has shown this season. He covered himself with glory and loud applause by a magnificent run of 62, the best of the tournament, with the exception of Schaefer's 65 on Wednesday night, which is the record thus far for individual runs. He made other high runs of 48 and 46, while Sutton made 54 and 45. As Slosson's best inning in the evening only drew out a string of 43 and Howison could not advance beyond 35, it will be seen that the afternoon game was superior in individual brilliancy to the evening match, as it also was in averages, for Slosson needed 49 innings to win an easy game.

Howison opened the evening game with a light run of 3 and Slosson started with the more moderate score of 1. A string of 5 gave him the lead in the next inning, and he maintained his lead unchallenged to the end. The game ran along slowly for both up to the fifteenth inning, when the first respectable run was made—26 for Slosson. It took the latter, however, twenty-two innings to pass 100. At the close of the previous inning he had 99, but a run of 22 in the twenty-second inning gave him 121. Howison at this point had less than 50, his slow game, after his clever work against Schaefer the preceding evening, being a decided disappointment. In difficult carroms and skillful follow shots Slosson gave the spectators plenty of opportunity to give vent to their delight at fine billiards. He had difficulty, however, in holding the balls nicely together, which may have been due to the condition of the ivories, for the changes in the weather have affected them peculiarly. In the afternoon the set was found to be so badly cracked that a new set had to be brought on to complete the match. The scores are:

Slosson—1 5 1 1 10 0 0 0 11 4 9 5 0 0-26 0 12 0 1 1 12 22 14 34 0 7 1 25 3 8 15 43 2 3 7 11 0 0 12 5 10 32 0 9 5 10 12 6 5. Total, 400. Average, 8 8-49. High runs, 43, 34, 32, 26.

Howison—3 0 2 0 6 1 2 6 1 6 0 0 0 0, 4 4 2 0 4 0 1 0 0 9 4 2 0 4 5 6 1 0 8 5 35 0 3 1 17 16 1 14 0 13 4 3 0 1 12. Total, 206. Average, 4 10-49. High runs, 35, 17, 16.

Morningstar and Sutton met in the afternoon, and they gave the spectators a magnificent game to watch. It was one of the best of the series thus far, and was finished in 42 innings, much better in this respect than Slosson's game in the evening. Morningstar was the victor, being his first win in the tournament, but it was earned by the slim majority of 25 points. Sutton started off in the lead, a good run of 19 in the third inning giving him the advantage early in the match. This he succeeded in holding up to the fifteenth inning, his score being 93 to 81 for Morningstar. The latter then gave the gallery something to clap for by rolling up a splendid string of 62. The scores:

Morningstar—6 6 3 1 7 0 1 13 7 5 4 0 13 7-62 0 0 0 1 5 6 0 5 1 24 7 2 5 6 14 48 16 1 2 36 6-46 0 2 3 12 9. Total, 400; average, 9 22-42; high runs, 62, 48, 46, 36.

Sutton—2 0 19 0 3 6 7 23 9 6 9 0 0 9 2 2 8 4 1 14 12 0 45 10 2 10 25 5 0 8 0 10 12 1 2 2 7 4 40 54 1 1. Total, 375; average, 8 39-42; high runs, 54, 45, 40, 25.

The games to-day will be between Barutel and Howison in the afternoon, and Schaefer and Sutton in the evening.

The standing of the players is:

	Won.	Lost.		Won.	Lost.
Barutel	2	0	Sutton	1	2
Slosson	2	0	Howison	0	3
Schaefer	1	0	Morningstar	1	2

Skating Tournaments Planned.

Three large skating tournaments will be held at the Clermont Avenue Rink in Brooklyn during the coming season. The first of these will take place on Dec. 20, and Manager Mosher hopes on this occasion to have several of the best skaters of Canada and America in the various events. There also will be races at the rink every Wednesday and Saturday night throughout the season in order to develop the local talent. Some of the New York boys are already fast enough to hold their own with many of the speediest men in the country.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Record-Breaking Scores Made in Grand Central and Long Island Cycling Tournaments.

Two remarkable individual scores and a record-breaking team score were made on Brooklyn bowling alleys last night. In the Grand Central tournament the Corinthians of New York made a score of 1,033, the highest ever made upon the alley, of which John Voorhees made 268. In the tournament of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island, William Cring of the Mutual Wheelmen rolled 267, which is the highest individual score of the season on those alleys. The scores:
